Rules & Regulations

Net : It is essential to respect the safety rules concerning the use of the housing net. The installation of the net has been designed to offer you a space for rest and relaxation, it is therefore not a trampoline and it is strictly forbidden to jump on the living net. Please also take off your shoes.

Shanta Beach Villa - Non Smoking : The entire villa is non-smoking for the comfort and well-being of all. We thank you in advance for smoking outside, making sure that the smoke does not enter the house. With high temperatures on the ground and in very dry vegetation, the combustion of the cigarette butt can quickly start a fire. Also, we thank you for not throwing your cigarette butts in the savannah which is part of the protected natural areas in Reunion.

Children's monitoring : For their safety, never leave your young children unattended. You are also asked to ensure that they respect the safety instructions (residential net, glass guardrails, petanque balls...).

Hygienic towels and tampons : it is imperative that you never flush your sanitary napkins and tampons down the toilet. The pipes are absolutely not intended for this use. Please use the trash can provided in the bathrooms.

Glass garde : For your safety, please do not lean on the glass guardrails.

Cushions : Please remember to bring in the cushions of the housing net at night and place them on the pool deck.

Anti mosquito spirals : The use of mosquito coils is strictly prohibited inside and outside the villa (pool beach areas, gratings included) because they can cause fires to start. Electric mosquito repellents are permitted indoors and outdoors.

Barbecue : a gas barbecue is available to you, please make sure that the gas is closed after the use of the barbecue.

Domestic animals : as hygiene measure, animals are formally prohibited on property.

Number of persons : You have indicated to the owner the number of people present at the villa, so you expressly agree not to exceed this authorized number. Shanta Beach Villa is a haven of peace, conducive to calm and relaxation. Also, you are asked to be discreet in the evening (after 10 p.m.), during the night, and early in the morning (before 7 a.m.). Please respect the neighborhood. Parties are not allowed.

Responsibility : As the tenant in title, you are personally responsible for all damage, loss or damage to the accommodation itself and what it contains and to all the facilities on the site, committed by yourself or the persons / parents who staying with you, or visiting you. You are therefore required to be insured by a resort-type insurance contract for these various risks. Respect for the rules of life: The tenants accept without reservation, irrevocably and definitively, the general rental conditions and these internal regulations. Failure to comply with one or more of the conditions of the rules of life attached to Shanta Beach Villa may result in the immediate termination of the rental at the fault of the tenant. The product of the rental will then remain definitively acquired by the owner.

Arts & Cultures

The arts occupy an important place at Shanta Beach Villa.

Passionate about art and convinced that it is an essential element in our lives and in our society, the owners of Shanta Beach Villa wanted to give it a very special place within the villa.

Street Art : As soon as you arrive, the tone is set and you will immediately be immersed in the world of street arts thanks to the mural paintings of the Reunionese artist Sept.

Self-taught, Sept first made a name for himself by affixing in the streets of his island a universe of zany colorful characters, from his marvelous imagination. The remarkable advances in his work then led him to the creation of realistic frescoes turned towards nature and humans, on increasingly large surfaces. This versatility in his creations allows him to interact as he likes to do with the immediate urban, natural and human environment where his works come to life. His work, favoring the aerosol technique, is steeped in popular culture to create colorful and poetic walls. In search of creation and originality, the work of Sept is now inspired by the technique of "tag" or "Graffitag".

The works of Sept that you will discover at Shanta Beach Villa are true poetic invitations to a unique emotional journey.

Sculpture

After going through the gate, you can admire the Raku ceramic masterpieces of two talented artists, Galdys Moreau and Régine Rivière.

Designed in their workshop in Le Tampon, these unique sculptures designed specifically for Shanta Beach Villa pay a beautiful tribute to the biodiversity of the Indian Ocean but also and in a more colorful way to the atmosphere that reigns on the property: calm, peace and serenity.

Art photographs

"You have to believe in your dreams and give yourself the means to achieve them", this is what Emilie Delarue strongly believes in, a young photographer passionate about the world around her, whether land, sea or air. It is in the privacy of your rooms that these different unique, magical, sometimes almost mystical universes immortalized by Emilie's lens will be revealed.

The Garden of Scents

Like La Réunion, the garden of Shanta Beach Villa is intended to be mixed and colorful. Like a veritable green setting in the heart of the savannah of the West of the island, the magnificent landscaped garden of the villa dotted with aquatic, tropical plants and exotic flowers offers you a real botanical space with mixed scents to discover species from Réunion Island.

With its large avenue of vetiver, whose precious essential oil extracted from its roots is used by the greatest perfumers, its beds of lemongrass known for its medicinal properties or its Ylang Ylang and its multicolored frangipani with sweet-scented flowers, this garden cannot leave you indifferent.

« Kozé lé bon, voir lé méyé ! »

Our Créol language

In Reunion, the official language is French as it is spoken, written and taught in Metropolitan France.

Did you know?

Reunionese Creole, which obtained the status of regional language in 2014, cohabits with the French language and if it is not a question of denigrating one language in particular for the benefit of the other, it must nevertheless be emphasized that the Creole historically holds an important place in Reunionese society.

Known to be the language of Maloya, it was born from this need for communication between slaves of different origins and slaves with their masters. This fusion of influences has brought out a mixed language with French, Malagasy, African, Indian and Chinese roots, a real cultural melting pot. Creole is found everywhere, in literature, in music, on our local media and even in the schools where it is taught.

Highlighting it within the villa was therefore obvious. During your stay, you will not miss the wooden signs hung everywhere on which you will find colorful expressions and local proverbs written in Creole, sometimes tinged with poetry, sometimes tinged with humor. There is no doubt that this little linguistic journey concocted just for you will arouse your curiosity and the desire to know more about our rich and colorful Creole language.

The Madoi, Museum of Decorative Arts of the Indian Ocean

The Madoi, Museum of Decorative Arts of the Indian Ocean
The last coffee estate in all of France's overseas territories, the Maison Rouge estate has stood the test of time from the 18th century to the present day, preserving all traces of its location on the ground. This agricultural complex, surrounded by deep ravines, is located on a set of terraces, on the edge of bad land, and complies with the codes in force in the 16th century home economics manuals, still in use in the 18th century. This remarkable ensemble has been classified as a Historic Monument since 2004.

The Museum of Decorative Arts, labeled Museum of France, was established in the heart of the Maison Rouge estate in 2008. Among the promotion offers, the museum team offers guided tours through the discovery of the property, the "Bourbon Pointu" coffee plantation, as well as a temporary exhibition room where a scientific and cultural offer highlights a heritage collection of great interest, illustrating the major aesthetic currents that have influenced Europe and the Ocean Indian.

Siva Soupramanian Saint Paul Temple

A legend says that it is not advisable for a Tamil to take up residence in a place where there is no temple.

This explains why very early on (as early as 1828) the Indians organized a campaign for the construction of the temple of Saint Paul.

In 1876, several permit holders (free Indians) demanded authorization to establish a “pagoda”, on land owned by Mr Laprade “at the end of the pond ». Following an exchange of letters, the temple was erected two to four years later.

The Siva Soupramanien temple is a vegetarian temple, but the temple has experienced a distant time of animal sacrifice.

GUANDI Temple :

Reunion has only four pagodas or temples despite the large Chinese community. On the heights of Terre-Sainte now stands the largest Guan Di temple in the entire Indian Ocean.

This magnificent building was built in the purest Chinese tradition and according to feng shui principles.

Its frame, ordered in China, was assembled by workers specially brought in from the Chinese provinces.

After 5 years of work, the temple dedicated to Guan Di, a warrior who became a god, was consecrated on August 14, 2017.

Excellent works allow to know more about this religion dedicated to the Gods, the Spirits and the Ancestors.

Guided tours every Saturday 9.15 a.m. 10.30 a.m. 2.15 p.m. and 3.30 p.m. (subject to change).

Eco-responsible workshops for sea turtles

Shanta Beach Villa overlooks one of the beaches that was a historic nesting site for sea turtles. This beach therefore benefits from special attention and extensive preservation and protection actions in favor of sea turtles. If you wish, during your stay, to act in favor of our biodiversity, you will not need more than a few steps from the villa to reach the beach and participate in the workshops offered by the CEDTM (Center for the study and discovery of turtles) which aim to maintain the nesting beaches and thus raise public awareness of the protection of our environment.

Hermitage Market

Only 10 minutes from the Villa, enjoy the Ermitage market on Sundays and discover local products, crafts and fruits and vegetables from Reunion. You will also be able during this getaway to take a real world tour of flavors by tasting Reunionese, Moroccan, Thai, Chinese and many other dishes.

Trou D'eau road

Quick access to one of the most beautiful lagoons on the island. The villa is only 5 minutes by car from the seaside resort of La Saline and more precisely from the small beach of Trou d'Eau. This little corner of beach located south of Saline les Bains is very popular and the atmosphere is rather family and relaxing. The site is magnificent, the lagoon is good for swimming, leisure activities such as snorkeling, canoeing, paddleboarding, windsurfing... just happiness!

Le bistrot de P  p   Gentil : At the P  p   Gentil bistro, in Boucan Canot, the warm atmosphere and the neat decor make you feel good there, a bit like having dinner with friends, but with the service of a great restaurant. We are pampered like never before, by a team that knows how to perfectly combine professionalism, discretion and kindness. In the kitchen, the chef offers bistro-nomic cuisine back from the market, fine and gourmet.

He likes to work with vegetables and promote local products such as palm kernel or Langevin trout. He changes his menu according to the seasonal products he selects at the fairground market of Saint Leu for some. His delicate and tasty cuisine will amaze and surprise your taste buds.

As with his signature dish: cubes of toothfish with pei turmeric and parmesan, or even with Iberian Pluma and its Espelette chorizo pepper juice accompanied by its creamy polenta with candied tomatoes. Lovers of good wine will be served!

The Bistrot du P  p   Gentil in Boucan Canot has a magnificent cellar and the restaurant's sommelier will be able to advise you on perfect food and wine pairings.
